

Lila Moss, model, as happy-go-lucky Baloo

"My favourite Disney movie is The Jungle Book because my dad always used to sing 'Bare Necessities' to me in the kitchen while he was cooking and it's a great feel-good family Classic."

Lily Aldridge, American model, as Alice in Wonderland

"I got to play one of my favourite characters, Alice in Wonderland. Always use your imagination because wonderfully magic things can happen."

British model, Mia Regan, as Stitch

"I think he (Stitch) is a good example of friendship and trust but also not taking life too seriously and enjoying the fun moments".

British model and poet, Sonny Hall, as Timon

"I chose Timon because he was the most similar to me. The way he holds himself, elegant but at the same time playful and cheeky. He can get confused between these modes."

Winnie Harlow, Canadian super model, as Winnie the Pooh

"I decided to choose Winnie the Pooh as my character because that is whom I got my name from. I love Winnie as he has so many friends that are so different and he loves them for all their different attributes. That is something that I hold dear to me."

Ashley Graham, model and television presenter, as Lady

"Disney has been a crucial part of my childhood. I chose Lady, Lady chose me. I feel we are the same vibe – and we both love spaghetti! I love pasta! And so does Lady!"

Michel Gaubert, Parisian sound director, as Tinker Bell

"When I was a little boy, I always wanted to be a fairy but I didn't grow up to be a fairy. Now Tinker Bell is by my side, she brings out the fairy in me."

Adut Akech, supermodel as Tinker Bell

"I think she (Tinker Bell) is a sassy, beautiful, independent, boss lady. Just like me. And if I were to be a character from Disney, it would be her."

Paloma Elsesser, model, as Simba

"I chose Simba because I identify with his resilience, pride and his leadership. I also always thought that my dad looks like Scar, which he does. It (The Lion King) has seminal ideas about perseverance and personality, and the roles we play - like a community to make differences in the world. I am super honoured to be a part of this. CHAOS is like a family and I love their loyalty and community."

Christina Nadin, model, as Bambi

"I remember watching 'Bambi' for the first time at Christmas, bunched into my brother's little room when I was four years old. I love the colours. I love the storyline and the underlining morals. How am I similar to Bambi? I have big eyes, a little button nose, bear ears and spots (freckles)."

Ugbad Abdi as Bambi

"Bambi's the coolest thing ever. I've always identified with him, seeing how he grew into his adulthood whilst still maintaining his young childlike aura."

Former male model of the year, Alton Mason, as Cruella

"Classic Disney characters are dreams that you meet in your everyday life. What I love about CHAOS is its highlight on individuality."

International supermodel, Georgia May Jagger, as the Cheshire Cat

"I chose The Cheshire Cat because I love all Disney characters. I thought it was the most mysterious and an interesting character in the Disney world."

Model Cindy Kimberley as Simba

"I can remember 'The Lion King' may have been the first movie I watched. My mom bought me the DVD and I watched it every single day for months! I have three cats and I think it probably has a lot to do with the fact that I was so obsessed with The Lion King as a kid."

Model, Aaron Philip, as Alice in Wonderland

"I chose Alice because when growing up, I always felt connected to dreaming. Any act of dreaming beyond what people had thought out for me. Alice is a perfect representation of what it is to dream big, live big and live hard - and I just related to that so much."

Maxim Magnus, model, as Timon

"My character is the iconic Timon. I chose him because he is super loyal and he's a good friend, but he can be a bit bossy and that's kind of like me because I always want everyone to be doing well. What I love about Disney characters is that they teach you about loyalty, to have fun - and all the characters are imperfect."

Maxim Magnus together with creative fashion consultants, Angel and Jordan, as The Lion King's Shenzi, Banzai, and Ed

"We chose the three hyenas because we are fun, crazy and we always come as three."

Cara Delevingne, global supermodel, as Eeyore

"What is there not to love about CHAOS? They are creative, innovative, playful, and I am never lonely with CHAOS. So I'm going to float away with my balloon now..."

Jamaican singer / songwriter and Bob Marley's granddaughter, Selah Marley, as Tinker Bell

"I chose Tinker Bell. She's a fairy, very cute and feisty like me! A little jealous I guess and a little crafty. She's a tinker! So I relate to Tinker Bell."
